“At Quicken, we're problem solvers...

If we can find a simpler, smarter way to manage a task or complete a process, we take it on. It all started in 1984 with our first product, Quicken Software, and it hasn't stopped since. As part of Intuit, the same company that brings you QuickBooks and TurboTax software, we've created an integrated family of award-winning products and services that revolutionize the way people manage their personal and small business finances. Today, we are focusing on helping you balance your life by expanding our product mix into new categories that align with your life needs — from making sense of your medical expenses, to inventorying your assets to managing your real estate investments. Our goal is to help you simplify so you have more time for the things and people most important to you. ”
